Schools Here Do Not Leave Christ Out, Rev. Morman Says

AT CHRISTMAS TIME: "Tim, I wish you'd say something in the paper some time about the fact that the schools of Harrisburg don't leave Christ out at Christmas time," the Rev. R. J. Morman said to me the other day.

He made the remark after a story came out that some schools in another area in the United States had taken the religious songs out of their Christmas programs.

He said it was great to be in a place where Christ held His proper place at Christmas and highly complimented the Christmas program that had been held at Harrisburg Junior high school.

"The spirit of Christ is not forgotten in our schools," he said.

"During these glad days of the Christmas season we hear much about the Christmas spirit," writes the Rev. William B. Fuson to this department. "We read from many different sources about being 'good givers.'"

"Indeed it is good to be good givers. But I wonder if we understand what is involved in giving. There is a principle involved in the act of giving that few of us ever consider; namely receiving."

"... We would be much better givers if we humbly acknowledge that we have first received far more than we are worthy. The angels said, 'Unto you is born this day... a Saviour which is Christ the Lord.'"

"Again the Bible says that it is 'good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people.'"

"Verily it is so! We become missionaries of Christianity and propagators of Freedom because we first received them. All the joys of a Christian Nation, when properly received, will drive us to sharing our joys with others."

"Yes, the better receivers we are, the better givers we shall be! Let us, as a people, drop the pride and boasting that exalts ego; for

Khrushchev, Gromyko Oppose Foreign Ministers' Parley

Say Top Talks Only Way to Solve Problems

Khrushchev Lists Needs for Direct Soviet-U. S. Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today rejected the NATO call for a foreign ministers conference and said world problems could only be solved with an East-West "summit" conference with President Eisenhower.

The call for a top-level conference came from Khrushchev, the leader of the Communist Party, who said such a meeting could solve all outstanding problems including disarmament in this age of missiles and Sputniks.

Gromyko spoke first at a joint session of the supreme Soviet (Parliament). In a 40-minute speech he accused the West—especially Britain, France, the United States and Canada—of hampering disarmament by linking it with such "extraneous subjects as Germany."

Gromyko said the Western nations, which with Russia formed a five nation United Nations disarmament subcommittee, continued the arms race while finding "new obstacles" to disarmament all along the line.

Gromyko said the West must keep disarmament from becoming the subject of international bargaining and said the Spartans had "improved the international political climate."

He spoke of the just-ended NATO session in Paris and said Denmark, Norway and France urged action on the peace proposals put forward by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and declared that Denmark and Norway do not want American missile bases.

Speech Indicates Rejection
The arming of West Germany with missiles would be a "danger to Europe," Gromyko said.

Gromyko's bluntly worded speech appeared to be an outright rejection of the NATO conference's invitation to Russia to resume disarmament talks at the United Nations, or to discuss arms in a foreign ministers conference.

"It would not be hard to guess what would happen if we sat down for talks under conditions that can bring no solution on disarmament," the foreign minister said.

Khrushchev then mounted the rostrum in the old Czarist throne room of the grand palace of the Kremlin and endorsed Gromyko's speech.

The Communist leader repeated his proposal for a summit conference which he said "would solve the problems which bother humanity, including disarmament."

Khrushchev also rejected any

Salvation Army Officers Help In Tornado Area

Lt. Mildred Wallace of the Harrisburg Salvation Army Corps returned this morning from Murphysboro, where she and Lt. Marian Haldeman went Thursday night to help following news of the tornado.

Lt. Haldeman returned to take care of the Harrisburg unit and Lt. Wallace remained to work ceaselessly in the canteen.

She reports thousands upon thousands of hot dogs and hamburgers were cooked and served along with coffee and in addition stew, chili and steaks were cooked with meats taken from deep freeze units that were thawing because of lack of power.

Salvation Army officers from St. Louis headquarters were on hand with its rural service unit and officers from southern Illinois were on hand to assist. Lt. Wallace said several truckloads of furniture and clothing were being distributed to unfortunate persons in Murphysboro today. A call was being made for toys to give the children in the affected areas at Christmastime.

Lt. Wallace said that the unit's Tree of Lights program to secure funds would continue in operation here until Christmas Eve.

National Education Association Proposes Sweeping Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders of the National Education Association (NEA) predicted today Congress will approve at least part of their sweeping space-age program for federal support of public schools.

The five-point legislative program, which the nation's largest educational organization will lay before Congress when it reconvenes next month, carries an immediate price tag of $1,100,000,000 a year. It calls for a steady increase in federal contributions over the next five years, levelling off at $4,600,000,000 a year.

Administration officials had no immediate comment on the NEA plan. But it is known that President Eisenhower's staff is working on a much more limited program of federal aid to education, totalling about 250 million dollars a year.

The NEA proposals unveiled at a press conference here Friday were highlighted by a plea for "massive" federal support of all public school systems in the nation "on a continuing basis."

The NEA said federal grants of $25 per school age child should be distributed to the states strictly on the basis of population.

State and local authorities would continue to exercise full control over school policies, and could use the federal money, at their own discretion, for teachers' salaries or classroom construction, or both.

The grants would be increased gradually to a level of $100 per school age child within five years.

The average outlay per school child at present is $332 a year. Nearly all of this comes from state and local tax funds.

Dr. William G. Carr, executive secretary, said this is the first time the 100-year-old NEA has advocated the federal government assume a continuing responsibility for helping to pay school costs. In the past, NEA proposals for federal aid have been in terms of short-term "emergency" programs of classroom construction.

Dulles Due Back
"But we did not mention the possibility of missiles being based in Spain," Dulles said. The secretary, who held a two-hour talk with Franco, was due back in Washington this afternoon.

Americans were given a somber tip-off Friday that the drive to checkmate Russia's missile might be going to cost plenty—and practically erase any faint hopes of a tax reduction next year.

Powell is serving his 12th two-year term in the House. He was first elected in 1934 and has been re-elected since. In the 66th General Assembly he was elected Speaker of the House and was Minority Leader for three other sessions.

He was selected as the Downstate Director of the Democratic Party, in which capacity he served from 1945 until 1953. He has been a member of the Budgetary Commission since 1945 and was recently also appointed a member of the newly created Legislative Audit Commission. Eisenhower Reported Planning 'Crash' Program for Missiles

President Will Make Report to Nation Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today was reported ready to push a "crash" program in Congress to spot ballistic missiles quickly in strategic NATO countries.

Informed sources said the President is planning to ask for the money in an all-out emergency drive to move up the deadline—previously set for mid-1959—for placing Intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles (IRBMs) in defensive positions against Russia.

NATO military chiefs agreed this week, the sources revealed, to basing IRBMs in Britain, Turkey, France and The Netherlands in that order of priority.

But defense experts questioned how much the deadline could be advanced, even if funds were made available immediately.

Ike Prepares Report
First there is the problem of getting the missiles into production. And the selection of sites, construction of the bases and the working out of agreements on who will pull the trigger in case of attack are all expected to be time-consuming.

The President, who kept his schedule clear of appointments today, was preparing his report to the nation Monday night on the decisions made at the NATO meeting. He may shed more light then on missile-base plans.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said in Madrid he had discussed with Spain's Generalissimo Francisco Franco in an "intimate" NATO report Friday "the possibility of missiles being brought to Europe."

Arthur Franks Rites Sunday

Arthur Franks

Funeral services for Arthur Franks, 77-year-old retired Harrisburg business man who lived at 922 South Main street and who died at 10 a. m. Friday in Lightner hospital, will be held Sunday.

The funeral of Mr. Franks, who died of a heart condition following a heart attack Dec. 11, will be in the chapel of Gaskins funeral home Sunday at 1:30 p. m. with the Rev. Joe Morman conducting the service. Burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

Mr. Franks retired in 1946 after having operated a soft drink bottling plant and having conducted the Saline county fair for 38 years.

Born in London, South Wales, March 6, 1880, he came to the United States when 18. He was a member of the Church of England.

Two children living in Harrisburg, Mrs. Denzil Pearson and Bill Franks, a sister, Mrs. May Elkins of West Frankfort, a brother and sister in England and eight grandchildren survive. His wife, Clara, died in 1955. Three children, Dr. Arthur Franks Jr., John Bynum Franks and Gertrude Franks, also are deceased.

Pallbearers will be Paul Hays, Ernest Boyd, Charles Skaggs, Bill Ghent, Francis Pry and Harker P. Miley.

and local police are no longer sentinels.

Murphysboro Mayor Joseph Williams said he and the city council are studying the possibilities of a government-sponsored project to clear some of the most heavily damaged homes of the low-rental housing area and to replace them with new structures.

"We hope we can turn the ill fortune of tornado damage into a major civic improvement, if the government will go along with us," Williams said.

Electric power was out. The candle, a symbol of hope, was the sole source of light, sometimes of warmth. For in the aftermath of a sudden, off-season tornado Wednesday, there was a return to cold, rainy weather.

Skies cleared late Friday, but it was still near freezing.

Throughout, the people have been working to clear away the debris, to restore power. Slow work. But they made progress.

"Nearly everything of value has been salvaged," Jackson County Sheriff Howard Cheatham said.

"We're in pretty good shape and some of us have even had a chance to get some sleep."

The total represents 25 per cent of the income earned by the Shawnee National Forest during the year. Payments are made according to the percentage of national forest land that lies in the county.

The counties, their forest acreage and amount to be paid:

Saline, 10,792 acres, $980.76; Gallatin, 9,121 acres, $828.90; Alexander, 24,689 acres, $2,243.69; Hardin, 17,378 acres, $1,579.28; Jackson, 29,766 acres, $2,705.08; Johnson, 8,377 acres, $761.29; Massac, 3,034 acres, $275.72; Pope, 76,823 acres, $6,981.63; Union, 30,870 acres, $2,805.41.

Arthur W. Greeley, regional forester at Milwaukee who announced the shares, pointed out that although such national forest benefits as recreation in the form of camping, fishing and hunting are taken for granted, these regular annual cash payments are not so widely known.

"By law the money must be expended on roads and schools in areas where federal forests are located," he stated.

Pump Water from Inside Levee

With Middle Fork creek rising above the water level inside the flood wall, pumps were started at 4 p. m. Thursday to take water through the levee and the pumping was completed early today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau has informed Harrison Kibler, in charge of the flood protection pumps, that there is a forecast of 34 feet for the Ohio river at Shawneetown Dec. 27.

Yesterday's precipitation measured .03 inch.

New Farm Corn Acreage Allotment

Any producer who intends to plant corn in 1958 on a farm where there was no corn acreage during the year 1955, 1956, or 1957 must apply for a corn allotment if he desires price support or if he wants to participate in any other phase of the Soil Bank Program other than the Acreage Reserve Program for corn in 1958, Edgar V. Thompson, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said today.

Marketing quotas do not apply to corn, the chairman explained. However, under the present program, the production of corn in 1958 on a farm which has no corn acreage allotment would make the corn produced on such farm ineligible for price support in 1958 as well as affect his participation in the Soil Bank Program. Application forms for a corn allotment are available at the ASC County office.
Jan. 31, 1958, is the last day such applications may be filed.

WHY STEAK IS EXPENSIVE

WHY IS MEAT SO DEAR?—This is a question often asked by Mrs. Homemaker. But as News-chart above shows, the history of a steak from range to frying pan is a long and expensive process.
Cattle, sheep and swine convert large quantities of grain and grass into meat which is nutritious and flavorful and a concentrated source of protein and energy. Actually, the American homemaker is spending a smaller and smaller percentage of her disposable income for meat (see center box). While many minor improvements can yet be made in the slaughtering, processing, distribution and retail business, meat experts say, the industry today is doing a competent and efficient job of serving the consumer inexpensively.

(A round-up of the week's work, activities and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by the station's staff)

Bull Care
During the non-breeding season, many of us are busy taking good care of producing cows and young stock that we forget the other half of the herd—the bull. It isn't necessary to keep him fat, but you should keep him thrifty. A bull that has lost much weight this past summer may need five or six pounds of grain a day in addition to a liberal amount of roughage.
A bull with fair fleshing now may be wintered on about 20 pounds of corn silage and 12 to 14 pounds of legume hay.
Also, don't forget that exercise is important to the bull's breeding efficiency and disposition. Avoid close confinement. On the Station several bulls run together in a large lot. They work off steam by pushing one another around and rarely become bad tempered.
Do Not Burn Off Fields
Usually warm weather has extended fall plowing in southern Illinois into winter plowing. Plowing to prepare for next year's corn crop is often accompanied by burning broomsedge. Farmers burn their fields to make plowing easier and to be sure that soil nitrogen will not be used for rotting the sedge. But burning is a short-sighted practice. One of the most serious shortages in southern Illi-

Beef Cattle Outlook

SUPPLIES SMALLER;
DEMAND UNCERTAIN

Prices of fed cattle ranged from $2 to $3 higher during the first seven months of this year than last year. But prices of Choice and Prime steers did not rise to the extreme heights in September and October that they reached a year ago. Recent prices of lower grades of cattle, however, have been $1 to $3 higher than those last year.

Beef production has leveled off this year and is expected to decline slightly in 1958. Our population continues to increase nearly 2 percent a year. Production of pork, which competes with beef, is increasing, but market supplies will continue relatively light at least until about next October. If consumer buying power holds up, fed cattle should average a dollar or so more per hundred pounds in the next 12 months than they did this past year.

CATTLE ON FEED. Farmers in 13 states were feeding 11 percent fewer cattle on October 1 this year than last. The 2,222 head in feed lots was the smallest number for the date in three years. Much of this reduction in numbers on feed will apparently be reflected in reduced marketings of fed cattle in the next 60 days. Farmers reported that they intended to move 16 percent fewer cattle to market in November than last year, and 12 percent less in December. The smaller supplies should provide strong resistance to seasonal price declines in the next two months.

CATTLE CYCLE. The cycle in cattle numbers appears to be definitely in the decreasing phase.
Numbers climbed 25 percent in the eight years ended January 1, 1956. But in the nearly two years since that date, they apparently have declined about 4 percent.
Some rebuilding of herds depleted by drought is going on in the southern great plains. However, many ranchers in this section are not financially able to rebuild rapidly. In most other areas there was no depletion and thus no need for rebuilding.

The nation's calf crop has been declining for three years. The 1957 crop has been estimated at 42.3 million head, 2 percent smaller than last year, and 3 percent below the record set four years ago.
While the calf crop has declined 3 percent in the three years, our human population has increased 5 percent. Thus the 1957 calf crop is 8 percent smaller in proportion to our population than it was four years ago. The smaller calf crops point to correspondingly smaller supplies of beef and to relatively higher prices for cattle over the next few years.

DEMAND FOR BEEF. Consumer demand for high Choice and Prime beef seems to be less strong this fall than a year ago. This change reflects the uncertain business outlook and a more cautious spending policy on the part of the high-income group. The next trend in the demand for highly finished beef is quite uncertain at this time.

Demand for other grades of beef remains very strong. Some workers have been laid off in recent

LITTLE LIZ

Egg Law to Be Strictly Enforced

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The state Agriculture Department today warned that strict enforcement of new regulations covering the temperature at which eggs may be graded and stored may soon be required.

The new regulations, part of the new legislation affecting eggs enacted by the 1957 Legislature, require that eggs must be kept at a temperature of 60 degrees or below when they are candled and graded until they reach the consumer.

The new law became effective Dec. 6.

Agriculture Director Stillman J.
Stanard said thus far the department's policy has been "one of education—showing the producer, egg dealer and grocer how to control temperatures in handling his eggs."

But where education fails to gain compliance, Stanard said, prosecution of the violators will follow.

Eggs found to be stored or handled at excessive temperatures may be seized. Maximum penalty for violation is a $200 fine and suspension or revocation of dealers egg licenses.

Farm Credit Workshop at SIU January 7-8

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A Farm Credit Workshop stressing recent developments in agriculture and how they affect farm credit requirements will be held at Southern Illinois University January 7-8, according to Walter J. Willis, workshop director and chairman of the SIU Agricultural Industries Department.

Program emphasis will be on the problems and outlooks of special concern to agricultural representatives in banks; the personnel of the Farmer's Home Administration; and workers in Production Credit, the National Farm Loan Association, Federal Reserve banks, and other similar agencies, Willis says. Cooperating in presenting the workshop are the SIU Division of Area Services and the SIU School of Agriculture Department of Agricultural Industries.

Joseph Ackerman, Chicago, managing director of Farm Foundation, will highlight the program in addressing the January 7 evening dinner session on "The Challenge strong of Carmi is vice president, weeks, but this is a normal situation even during periods of high level prosperity. Employment was sustained at a high level in 1956 and 1957 by increasing expenditures by governments and by business. Such outlays seem to be about to be cut back. Recently family spending has increased, and this increase may furnish enough buying power to keep employment up in 1958.

Judging from past history, the seasons in which cattle prices are most likely to be good are as follows: Cows and Utility steers, March to June; Commercial and Good steers and heifers, May to July; Choice steers and heifers, July to October; and Prime steers, September to January.

65 percent received farm information from newspapers; and 46 percent got it from listening to the radio. Unfortunately, only 23 percent used bulletins from agricultural schools and government experiment stations to get farm information.

Though the organ is more than 2000 years old, no music manuscripts for it have survived up to and including the Middle Ages. No one knows exactly what music was played on ancient organs.

SEASON'S GREETINGS — The world's largest man-made tree, 100 feet high with a trunk of steel, this year features animation. Located on the grounds of General Electric's Nela Park in suburban Cleveland, Ohio, the giant tree is hooked up to an electro-mechanical cycling device and lights up in five sequences to provide the animation effect. Giant, lighted toys are scattered under the tree and more than 7,000 bulbs in bluish green and pink are strung over its huge frame. Nearby hundreds of lamps spell out a cordial Merry Christmas in greeting to the half million sightseers who annually visit the display.

49'ers, Detroit in Playoff Sunday

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—Detroit and San Francisco, both loaded with talented "comeback kids," tangle at Kezar Stadium Sunday before 60,000 fans for the Western Division title of the National Football League.

The gamblers have made the Forty-Niners 3 1/2 point favorites—largely because they will be playing on the home field, but partly because of the fact that veteran quarterback Bobby Layne is out with a broken ankle and two other regular first string offensive men have been sidelined with injuries.

The weather man is in a quandary on what to predict—but mainly the idea is that rain can be expected.

There was a time that the team with the best ground attack would win in the rain and mud. But now, says the lads take to the air when the weather is damp and the footing is bad for the runners.

So quarterbacks Y. A. Tittle for San Francisco and Tobin Rote for the Lions are expected to engage in an all-out aerial struggle. The two teams ran 12 in weakness in the air defense department during the regular NFL season, so some kind of a new pass completion record total for one game may be set.

Tighten Security At Test Center; 2 Workers Fired

Action Follows Order Barring Photos of Launchings

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U.P.)—A stringent crackdown on security regulations at the Air Force missile test center has cost two government employees their jobs and resulted in penalties for four others.

Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the missile test center, warned base personnel Friday that publicity given the unsuccessful Vanguard launching did not signal the lifting of security barriers on other missiles.

The firings followed an order barring cameramen from photographing missile firings from vantage points on surrounding sand dunes near the tip of Cape Canaveral and was another step in the clamping of stricter security regulations at the base.

It was reported that two government employees were discharged, a visiting contractor's security was revoked and two other persons reprimanded.

Lt. Col. Sam Bruno, provost marshal at the center, said most of the base personnel observed security regulations.

"However, there is still evidence that an undisciplined and immature minority persist in an utter disregard for security regulations," he said.

Yates said it had been brought to his attention that "an apparent misunderstanding exists... that security restrictions on the release of information concerning missiles and missile testing has been greatly relaxed. This is not so."

Khrushchev, Gromyko Oppose NATO Plan

arms talks by the new and enlarged U. N. Disarmament Committee which he said was the same as the previous five-nation committee. Russia has boycotted such committee meetings in New York.

Khrushchev said a direct agreement between the United States and Russia would be good provided it can be achieved "without prejudice to the interests of other countries."

Khrushchev listed the things he said would be needed for such an agreement:

"Firstly, we must abstain from a discussion of the problems of ideological differences and leave the solution of these problems to the peoples themselves."

"Secondly, we must recognize the status quo. If the Western states were to recognize the status quo it would be easy to get closer to a solution of our problem."

"They tell us it is difficult to meet with the Soviet Union because of its rigid position and because it does not fulfill its obligations," Khrushchev said. "There is no basis for such an assertion."

Khrushchev said Russia, Communist China and the other Socialist countries are following the line of strengthening friendly relations between all states.

Then he cited William Randolph Hearst, former U. S. ambassador to Moscow, George Kennan and Canadian Foreign Minister Dr. Sydney Smith as "examples of the rising voices in the West supporting the Soviet policy of peaceful co-existence."

"We give this advice to the Americans," Khrushchev said. "Throw your already compromised policy of 'from a position of strength' onto the dust heap of history. Let us recognize the existing situation and let us not interfere in the internal affairs of each other."

The Supreme Soviet then voted a resolution approving the foreign policy of the government and the session ended.

One Dead, Six Hurt In Auto Crash Near Crossville

CROSSVILLE, Ill. (U.P.)—Joseph Reynolds, 31, Greenwood, Ind., was killed and six persons injured in a two-car collision Friday night four miles north of here on Ill. 1.

Injured were Reynolds' wife, Lucia, 34, and his daughter, Blythe, 5, as well as the occupants of the other car, Richard K. Schmidt, Joseph Camp, William Lingafelter and James Taylor, all 15-year-old Grayville, Ill. youths.

Although the cause of the accident was not known, highways and highway shoulders in the area have been made hazardous by rain and freezing weather.

Elvis Presley Gets Draft Call

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.)—Rock 'n' roll idol Elvis Presley, 22, was booked solid today for a two year engagement with the Army.

The guitar-thumping crooner got his induction notice Friday to report for duty at an unidentified post Jan. 20—the same day he was scheduled to begin work on a movie in Hollywood called "King Creole."

"I'm kinda proud of it," Presley said referring to the draft notice. "It's a duty I've got to fill and I'm going to do it."

The singer, an only child, said he would "hate to leave my mother and father."

Presley, who got his start playing and singing in north Mississippi, would draw $78 a month as an Army private. He has earned as much as $50,000 for a single "live performance."

In Hollywood, studio production chief Y. Frank Freeman of Paramount, said Presley's induction Jan. 20 would cost the studio between $300,000 and $350,000 because of "preparatory investments" on the scheduled movie.

Freeman said he had already sent a letter to Presley's draft board in Memphis requesting an eight-week delay "so we won't lose this large sum of money."

The young performer, who will be 23 in January, said he would "go along" with Paramount's efforts to obtain a deferment. "I know they have lots of money in the picture, but I am not going to ask for any special favors for myself," he said.

Evangelist Bernie Smith Has His 10th Book Published

Evangelist Bernie Smith who has just finished evangelistic campaigns in eastern states and who will renew his work in Michigan after visiting relatives here during the holidays, said back in 1944 he hoped to write ten books during his lifetime.

He made the remark after the release of his first book.

Recently, on his 37th birthday, his tenth book, "Let There Be Light," a compilation of sermons, was released.

This latest book was dedicated to a Galatia couple, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shelton, and Wednesday at 6 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Smith took five copies of "Let There Be Light," sent here by the publishers, to Galatia and presented them to Mr. and Mrs. Shelton.

Among books written by Evangelist Smith are "Contemporary Conversions," "Flames of Living Fire," "Treasures of Truth" and "Jesus Speaks from the Cross."

Two Lawsuits Filed

In Circuit Court

Two lawsuits were on file today in the office of the circuit clerk.

Pearl Holmes, in a complaint filed for her by Atty. R. W. Harris of Marion and Atty. Harry L. McCabe, asked for a $25,000 judgment from John R. Jackson's, Inc., the complaint stating she slipped on the floor of the store and fell Jan. 25, 1957.

In another complaint Bob F. Lane of Harrisburg, through Atty. Harris, seeks $3,000 from the Egyptian Mining Co. for labor and heavy equipment used on a job for the company on the Ohio river at Cave-in-Rock between Aug. 10 and 17, 1957.

Food Inspectors Sent Into Tornado Stricken Areas

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—Gov. Stratton said today an additional 20 food inspectors from the Agriculture Department have been ordered to the tornado-stricken areas around Murphysboro and Mount Vernon as a health measure.

The additional inspectors will supplement the work of the 11 inspectors regularly in the area, Stratton said. The health inspectors are attempting to safeguard the health of the residents of the area and of rescue workers engaged in the giant clean-up task left in the wake of the tornadoes.

Where power lines are down, locker plants have been sealed to conserve refrigeration and prevent food spoilage. Much of the perishable food in Murphysboro stores has been moved to Carbondale for refrigeration.

Esh Sham (formerly called Damascus), capital of Syria, is reputed to be the world's oldest continuously inhabited city.

BRING YOUR COMPLETE CHRISTMAS LIST TO RAINBOW'S

St. Joseph, Mo., Is Center for Christmas Lights

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (U)—The whole world could be encircled twice with two strands of Christmas lights by using the products of four St. Joseph companies.

St. Joseph, which calls itself the "Christmas light center of the world," turns out more than half of the world's holiday lights and other decorations.

Four corporations—Globe, Amical, Royalties and Noma Lites—annually use enough electric cord to encircle the world more than twice with 18,000,000 string light sets.

And each day, the companies use 1,000,000 feet or 189 miles of cord and more than 500,000 bulbs.

Style Conscious

Albert V. Sadacca, executive director of Globe, said the busiest part of the year is around the middle of November when shipments are sent to all parts of the world.

The decorative-lighting business also is style conscious. The firms produce some 250 different types of string lights and several hundred models of specialty decorations.

As electrical manufacturers made technical progress in lighting, the hazardous use of candles gradually disappeared.

By 1907, series-burning lights with carbon filaments were in use. Nine years later they were succeeded by globular-shaped tungsten filament bulbs. The familiar pear or flame-shaped bulbs largely had supplanted the round bulbs by 1930.

The evolution of Christmas tree lights reached its peak in 1934 with the advent of the "multiple-burning" sets which continued burning even though one bulb burned out.

STORM WARNING ADMONITION

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS IS VULNERABLE TO TORNADOES AND OTHER VIOLENT WINDSTORMS AND IS NOW REGARDED BY MANY INSURANCE UNDERWRITERS AS A "CRITICAL STORM AREA." This fact, combined with fire losses, has decided many insurance companies to "pull out" of Southern Illinois—and also caused increase in rates.

IF A STORM SHOULD HIT TONIGHT WOULD YOUR INSURANCE TODAY REPLACE YOUR HOME OR CONTENTS AT TOMORROW'S PRICES?

A majority of the people are vastly underinsured. Building costs have tremendously increased. The cost of furniture, home appliances, clothing, etc., is up. It takes more than marbles to replace your possessions.

INCREASE YOUR COVERAGE TODAY. INSURE ADEQUATELY AND WISELY. FIRE INSURANCE AND KINDRED COVERAGES ARE LOW—AVERAGING LESS THAN $3.00 PER $1000 PER YEAR.

'Christ In the Likeness of Men'

Philippians 2:1-11

GOLDEN TEXT: "When the fullness of the time was come, God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons." (Galatians 4:4-5)

INTRODUCTION — The spirit of Christmas is in the air. There is something about the Christmas season that effects the atmosphere of homes, schools, churches, places of business and all that surrounds men, women and children.

How very fortunate we are to be living in America! Nowhere else in all this world is Christmas celebrated like it is here. God has richly blessed our land. Have you ever stopped to think why He has done so? It is because a large percent of the people of America believe in His "only begotten Son" and have followed Him. The best part of Christmas is Christ! Let us not leave him out of our Christmas celebration!

I THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT
(V. 1-4)

What is the Christmas spirit?
We have already said that there is something about it that changes the attitudes of all kinds of people.
The Christmas spirit is the spirit of giving. It is a joyous season.
Did God not tell us that "it is more blessed to give than to receive?"

The spirit of Christmas is the Christian spirit. Not all folks who are affected by the Christmas spirit are Christians, but at least for a season they are affected with the same spirit. Yes, Christmas is the time when we people "esteem others better than themselves." (V. 3).

God is the greatest giver of all.
He gave His only begotten Son, because He loved you and me so very much. In fact, if it were not for the birth of Christ, there would be no Christmas. There would be no salvation, and there would be no Christians.

II CHRIST GIVES CHRISTMAS
(V. 5-8)

Let us remember that Christ is God. He dwelt in heaven from the very beginning, (John 1:1), and He had all the riches of glory at His command. He laid aside all the wealth of heaven and came to earth and took upon himself human

Motorists Complain About Size of Auto Registration Cards

SPRINGFIELD — Some motorists have been complaining about the new and larger auto registration cards being used by the secretary of state this year. The cards don't easily fit into wallets.

Secretary Charles F. Carpenter advised today that if the card doesn't fit into your wallet, simply fold it in two.

The card has been scored vertically so it can be folded readily. If it still doesn't fit, trim off the borders.

The new cards will save the state 60,000 a year, Carpenter said, and they also permit license plate purchasers to get their registration cards at the same time they get their licenses.

HAND-PICKED for MURDER

THE STORY: Jim Bennett has discovered the body in Hugo How-ell's room. An ice pick was buried in the body.

XVI
For maybe 30 seconds I stared dumbly at the varnished wooden handle gleaming dully in the dim light. Beneath the handle there was about two inches of the steel point above the sheet, and it entered the sheet in almost the exact center of a three-inch disc of blood. I lifted the end of the sheet carefully and saw a still slack face with glazed half-open eyes. It was n't the face I'd expected to see.
The dead man in Hugo Howell's bed was Ambrose Lott.

The ice pick had gone into his left side, a little high for dead center on the heart, but not too high. His fat body was naked except for a pair of gaudily striped shorts. He was still warm. His suit, socks, shirt, tie and shoes were lying in a crumpled heap beside the bed.

I went out and closed the door.
There was no one in the hall, and all the doors were closed. I moved to the door next to Howell's, listened intently, heard the muffled sound of snoring. I tried the knob.
The door was not locked. I opened it slowly and carefully, stepped inside and closed it again. In the faint light from the street I saw that the size, furniture and arrangement of the room were almost identical to the one I'd just left, Howell's room. In fact, it was similar to my own room, and I decided that all the rooms in the hotel were furnished and arranged pretty much the same.

Hugo Howell was sprawled on the bed, his mouth open, snoring heavily. The room smelled of whisky. I crossed to the window, opened it, felt a cool breeze from the lake on my face. Howell was fully dressed.

Howell groaned, rolled on his side, and mumbled something incoherent. Then the snoring began again. I went out and returned to the room next door, Howell's room, number 210, where I'd talked to him that morning. I closed and locked the door, pulled down the blind and turned on the overhead light. The half-open eyes of the man on the bed seemed to follow me as I moved about, peering in the closet, opening dresser drawers. There was a battered pigskin bag in the closet bearing brass initials: H.H.H. I dragged it out, opened it, found clean shirts, underwear, socks, handkerchiefs also bearing Howell's initials, an unopened fifth of rye whiskey, a bottle opener, a long silver stirring spoon and a letter addressed to Howell. The envelope bore the return address of the Union National Bank in Detroit. Inside was a single blue form stating that Hugo Howell's checking account was overdrawn in the sum of $250.
40 and asking him to cover the overdraft immediately. I replaced the form and returned the envelope to the bag, thinking grimly that the agency might have trouble in collecting its fee and expenses from Howell, not to mention cash-ing the check he'd already sent.

On top of the dresser were two empty bottles, two glasses with ter a very Merry Christmas, and I'd like to say a big thank you to the many readers for the nice comments on my little column. May God richly bless you all.

the dregs of drinks in their bottoms, a Harbor House silver bucket which had apparently contained ice cubes, an ash tray loaded with soggy cigar butts. Beside the ash tray was a small gilt frame holding a faded snapshot of a middle-aged woman with a squinting worried expression standing in a weedy yard before a decrepit looking house. Beside her was a boy wearing torn pants and a sweater too tight for him. I recognized the boy as Wayne Howell, maybe 10 years ago. The woman was undoubtedly the late Mrs. Howell, Wayne's mother, whose foresight and devotion to her only son was now the reason for my presence in Lakeport, O.

This was Hugo Howell's room, even though Ambrose Lott lay dead in his bed, and even though Howell was sleeping next door in Lott's bed. In their drunkenness they had confused the rooms. Lott had entered Howell's, and Howell had entered Lott's. And the murderer, sneaking in after they both were asleep, had thought in the darkness that he was jobbing the ice pick into Hugo Howell.

I went to the phone and called
Chief of Police Orville Campbell

The county coroner's name was Dr. John Sours. He was a little pot-bellied man who seemed quite competent.

Dr. Sours, after a careful examination, stated positively that death had resulted from the ice pick entering the vicinity of the heart's left atrium. "Orville," he said to Chief Campbell, "by rights I should do a post for the record, but it's not necessary. There is no question in my mind as to the cause of this man's death."

"I'll take your word for it, John," the chief said, and added wryly, "Anyhow, I'm afraid the council won't approve the cost of an autopsy."

By midnight it was all over. Ambrose Lott had been hauled away to a local undertaking establishment. The members of the hotel staff on duty had been questioned.
We woke up Hugo Howell, but he was too dazed to know what we were talking about. His mumbled answers indicated that he and Lott had staggered upstairs and entered what each had thought was his own room. We left him snoring in Ambrose Lott's room. All through it the little hotel manager hovered about, wringing his hands and repeating that he couldn't have this sort of thing and what will the owners think? A murder in the Harbor House.

Thinking It Over

The long lists of people to whom we wished to send gifts and Christmas greetings are becoming shorter as we cross off the ones for whom we have made purchases. It seems a pity that we shower our love on these people so seldom.

It would be wonderful if we were to take these lists and make them into the lists of folk for whom we pray. Have you ever wondered what would happen if we prayed for all the people

Red Birds' Height Makes Difference; Locals Play Tonight at Centralia

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs staged a magnificent stand before the state's No. 2 team, the West Frankfort Red Birds, before dropping a South Seven basketball contest in Davenport gym, 60 to 50. Coach George Lubelt's Franklin county contingent held only a three-point lead up into the fourth quarter.

The Bull Dogs jumped right along with the big West Frankfort boys the entire game but in the final analysis it was the height of the Red Birds around the basket on offense that made the difference.

Play at Centralia Tonight
Tonight the Bull Dogs must again participate in the torrid South Seven, which undoubtedly is the class of southern Illinois with nary a weak team. The foe will be the Centralia Orphans, and the locals will make the long trip to Centralia to play the game.

Last night the boys were hitting well, but so was West Frankfort. In the first half the locals shot .413 from the field but Frankfort hit .443.

Harrisburg, by running, shooting and jumping well, was ahead 14-12 at the end of the first quarter but in the second period the Bull Dogs were outscored 18-13 and the Birds led at halftime, 30-27.

No Red Bird Substitution
In the third period they began pulling away, running up a nine-point lead of 42-33 with only two minutes and 40 seconds to go in the frame. Then Harrisburg got busy, scoring three field goals in a row and the margin was reduced to 42-39 at the end of the quarter.

The Bull Dogs stayed with Frankfort for the first three and a half minutes of the final stanza, when the score was 46-43, but at that point the bigger Birds pulled away, finishing up with a ten-point margin.

West Frankfort played without a substitution, the contest was so

N. Carolina Wins 37th; Defeats Minnesota, 73-67

It's out of the frying pan into the fire tonight for North Carolina's national basketball champion, who survived their worst scare of the season Friday night and now must meet the fast, and hungry West Virginia.

Starting the champions in the face is the fate suffered by three of the nation's top 10 teams—Kentucky, Seattle, and UCLA.

North Carolina extended its winning streak to 37 games Friday night but had to come from behind to beat Minnesota, 73-67, in the first round of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament at Lexington, Ky.

But West Virginia overshadowed that victory by upsetting Kentucky, 77-70, in the other first-round game to qualify for a meeting with Carolina tonight. The 12th-ranked Mountaineers won this one "big," leading the host Wildcats by 15 points at halftime and then turning back their desperate second-half rally.

Cites WVU Speed
Although 6-10 Lloyd Scharrar led West Virginia with 21 points, Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp tabbed "speed" as the thing North Carolina must fear.

"They were too fast for us," admitted Rupp. "We have some tall men on our team, but they were too slow to play these fellows."

Pete Brennan led North Carolina with 27 points, but Ron Johnson topped that with 28 for Minnesota.

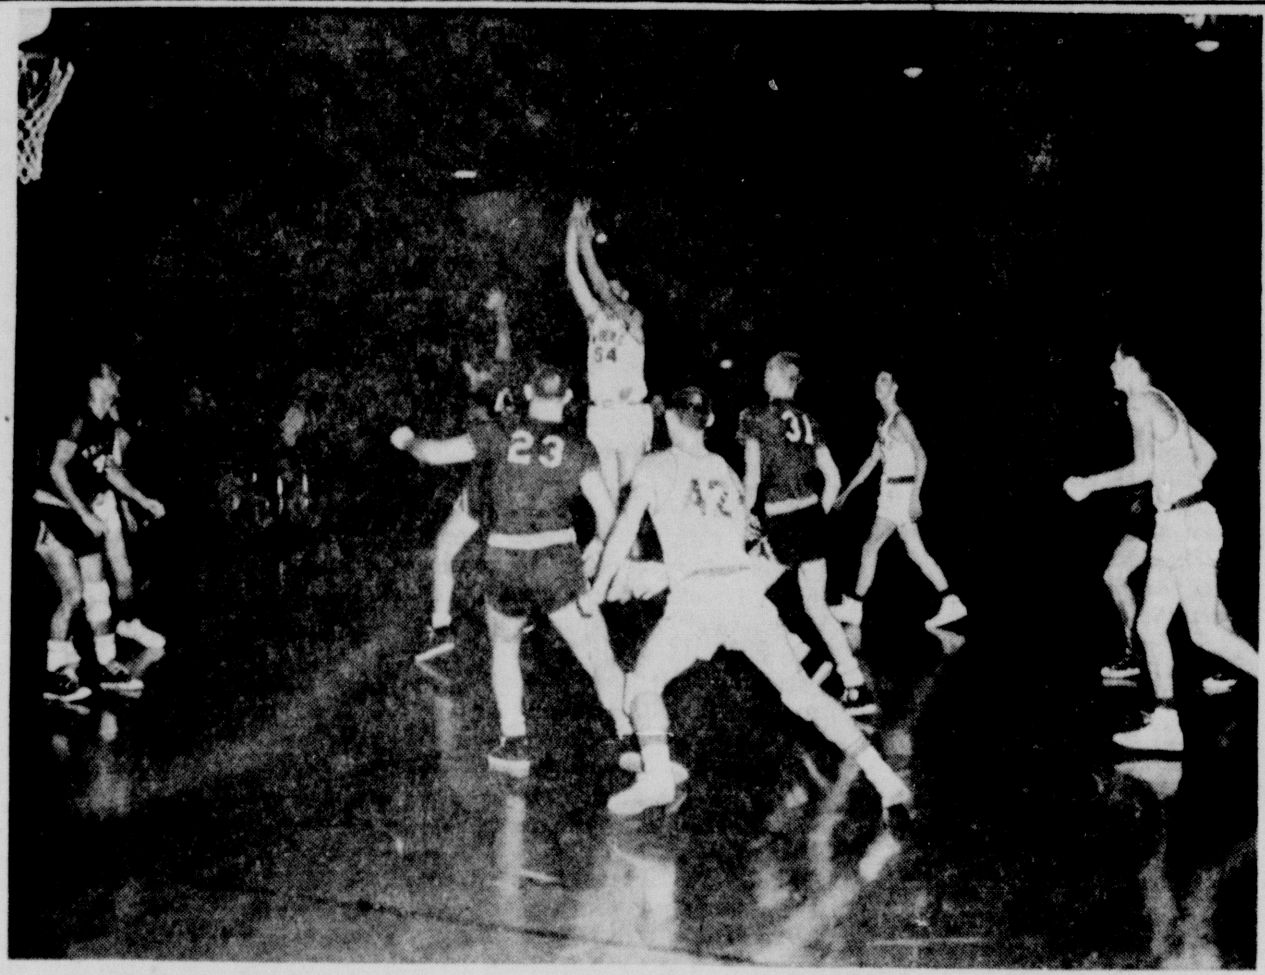

Eighth-ranked Seattle joined sixth-ranked Kentucky in the ranks of Friday night's beaten teams when it bowed to San Francisco, the nation's No. 4 team, 60-51, in the first round of the Blue Grass Tourney at Louisville, Ky.

Host Louisville rallied to beat Army, 66-61, in the other Blue Grass opener and will meet San Francisco in tonight's finale.

Wilt Gets 37
The drama of tourney games stole the spotlight Friday night from a pair of 37-point performances by the nation's two leading scorers, Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of Kansas and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati.

Chamberlain led second-ranked Kansas to a 58-44 victory over Washington with his points, rebounding, and shot-blocking. Robertson, No. 2 to Chamberlain in the scoring race, paced Cincinnati to a 94-53 win over North Texas State.

UCLA, ranked 10th nationally, was beaten, 67-43, by 11th-ranked Bradley at Peoria, Ill., although Bradley ace Barney Cable was out with an injured leg. Shellie McMillon led Bradley, last year's National Invitation Tournament champs, with 17 points.

RONNIE MAYNARD SHOOTS FOR HARRISBURG in basketball contest at Davenport gym won last night by West Frankfort, 60 to 50. Other Harrisburg players discernible are Ray Hassett (42), John Stone at extreme right and Bob Pavelonis in background. For Frankfort No. 23 is Warren Barty, Francis Florian is guarding underneath the basket, No. 31 is Richard Britton and trying to block Maynard's shot is big Vlado Zavich. Carrier Mills Wins 73-49 Tilt From Eldorado Carrier Mills won its eighth consecutive victory of the season Friday night by taking a 73-49 decision from Eldorado. The game was played at Carrier Mills.

Vern Rollins and Junior Manier teamed up for inside-outside scoring that wrecked Eldorado's defense. Manier was hitting well on long one-handers and Rollins controlled the rebounding at both ends of the court and scored consistently from ir close. These two accounted for 40 points, Rollins having 24.

With the clock showing an even 4 minutes to go in the first quarter Carrier Mills led 5-4, but at the end of the period CM was out in front 17-7. At halftime the winners held a 43-22 advantage.

Willis and Fowler, Eldorado guards, were tops for their team with 20 and 13 points respectively.

The preliminary game was won by Eldorado 50-46.

Eldorado will host Anna this evening and then participate in the Egyptian Holiday tournament, to be held in Harrisburg Dec. 25-28.

Carrier Mills will be idle until Thursday, date of the start of the second annual Carrier Mills Holiday tournament.

Herrin Easily Wins from Centralia, 89-66; Marion Edges Benton, 47 to 45

Herrin's top ranked Tigers held Centralia for an easy 89-66 win and Galesburg came back from two losses to defeat Monmouth, 65-55, in major prep basketball action Friday night.

Galesburg, ranked 15th in the state, needed the win badly. Herrin, ranked first, ran its undefeated string to six.

In other action around the state Marion won, 47-45, over Benton, for its eighth straight, and West Frankfort took Harrisburg, 60-50.

Another double overtime game saw Pinckneyville manage to slip by Murphysboro, 70-68, in southern territory.

Carmi took an easy 70-50 win over Bridgeport and Edwardsville edged Alton, 68-49.

In a crucial northern Illinois contest sixth ranked Rock Island, beaten only once, trounced Moline 53-43, for Moline's second loss of the season.

Galatia Wallops Shawneetown, 90-50; Ridgway Runs Wild, 129-53

Galatia walloped Shawneetown 90-50 in the only Greater Egyptian conference game played Friday night and GEC leader Ridgway went outside the conference to gain its 11th consecutive decision of the season.

Ridgway ran wild over Thompsonville, winning 129-53.

Galatia, conference runnerup, held winless Shawneetown to but one point in the second quarter and had a big 37-14 lead at halftime.

Philip Odle, 6-0 senior guard, paced Galatia to victory with 23 points. Others in double figures were Gary Hill with 19, freshman Robert Boyett with 16 and Thornton Davis chipped in with ten.

James Brazier, Shawneetown sophomore center, led his team with 21.

Shawneetown took the preliminary game 59-41.

Ridgway shot a red hot .608 at Thompsonville, marking the second consecutive game Ridgway had hit over .600. In the finals of the Equality Invitational tourney, played Wednesday night, Coach Bob Dallas' crew hit a .614 clip from the field.

Leading the onslaught was Roger Suttner. The big Ridgway center scored a total of 56 points, including 22 field goals and 12 free tosses. Suttner hit on 22 of 26 field goal tries and missed only one of 13 free throw attempts.

The entire Ridgway squad saw considerable action as it was obviously no contest from the start, with Ridgway running up a 37-11 first quarter lead.

With two minutes remaining in the game and Suttner having played but little in the last half and having scored 46 points, his teammates suggested he be given a chance to hit the half-hundred mark. In the last two minutes Suttner scored ten points.

Zirkelbach had the honor of cracking the 100 total for Ridgway. He pitched in two free throws for points 100 and 101.

Ridgway also won the preliminary game 76-63.
